

Langtang Trek

Description

This is one of the most popular trekking areas in Nepal. The Langtang National Park encompasses beautiful landscapes, meadows, and old monasteries.

This trek will pleasantly surprise you as you walk past the forests savoring the stunning views of mountains, valleys, and glaciers. The Chortens, mani walls, and monasteries reflect the influence of the Buddhist religion in this peaceful region. There are opportunities for side treks such as a hike to Tserko Ri or Kyanjin Ri.

The trek begins with a drive along the Trishuli River, north of Kathmandu, past Trishuli Bazaar and Dhunche to Syabru Bensi, a Sherpa village. This route is an ancient trading route between Nepal and Tibet.

As you walk past numerous forests, you might spot local wildlife like the musk deers, Himalayan monal, tahrs, wild dogs, serows, or even snow leopards.

It will take you two days to reach Langtang. You will be trekking from Syabrubesi to Lama Hotel on your first day on the route. Then the next day from Lama Hotel, you will reach Langtang Village, where you will receive a hearty welcome from the local Tamangs.

The next day we will trek to Kyanjin Gumpa, where we will spend one extra day acclimatizing. While acclimatizing, we will be exploring the local monasteries, visiting a cheese factory, and hiking to Tserko Ri (5,450m/17,880ft) Viewpoint. From this viewpoint, you will see stunning views of glaciers and high mountains like Langtang Lirung (7,227m), Langtang II (6,586m), Yala Peak (5,520m), and Naya Khang (5,844m).

Another important viewpoint is Kyanjin Ri at an elevation of (4,773m / 15,655 ft) which provides majestic views of the entire Langtang Lirung face and Langtang Lirung Glacier below the peak.

The whole Trek experience will be once in a lifetime experience for many. From Kyanjin Gumpa, we return to the Lama Hotel trekking south and then back to Syabrubesi. The next day we will take a bus back to Kathmandu, which will take about seven to nine hours. You will return to your respective hotels in Kathmandu, cherishing a short enjoyable trek experience.

This is an enjoyable trek that everyone should participate in at least once in their lives. This trek provides opportunities to explore the Langtang region, step on famous viewpoints, and experience the local lifestyle.
